

Workshop in Applied Evaluation Methods in Health

Presented by

Trinity College Dublin, Irish Aid, and the Trinity Impact Evaluation Unit
August 29th – 30th, 2019

Instructors:

Prof. Andrea Guariso (TCD and TIME) & Prof. Gaia Narciso (TCD and TIME)

This workshop will focus on how to use different evaluation methodologies – experimental and non-experimental – in the field of health. The workshop will take place over one and a half days on August 29th – 30th and will be preceded by an optional one-day statistics boot-camp on the 26th August to help prepare participants with less quantitative backgrounds.

Structure

The workshop will begin on the afternoon of August 29th with an introduction to impact evaluation and randomized controlled trials. This session will act as a refresher course upon which the sessions of the next day will build.

The sessions on the 30th August will run for the full day and will go into greater detail on the use of different methods for impact evaluation. Sessions will discuss how both experimental and non-experimental methods can be applied to the field of health. In addition, sessions will discuss recent evidence on policies in health that have been found to be most effective, and why.

Applications

To apply please send a short CV to impacetevaluation@tcd.ie. As places are limited, we encourage interested applicants to apply as soon as possible. Please also indicate in your email whether or not you will attend the Statistics Boot-Camp (Monday August 26th). Applications will be assessed on a rolling basis and should be submitted no later than July 20th, 2019. Applicants should have a Bachelor's degree or equivalent and have some familiarity with methods for impact evaluation through previous attendance at the TIME summer school or equivalent training. All applicants will be informed of their acceptance onto the course by email.

Logistics and Fees

The workshop will take place at Trinity College Dublin, Ireland. The fee for the workshop is €400. In the acceptance email you will receive the details regarding payment methods. Your place will not be guaranteed until payment is received. Lunch and refreshments will be provided for the duration of the summer school. A limited number of places for students are available at a rate of €300. Please indicate on your application if you are a student.
